William " Buck" Ewing has lost more popularity in the last few weeks than he can regain by several weeks of laborious effort in a uniform. Ewing is nanager of the New-York Baseball Club, at least as far as controlling the players is concerned. The work he set himself to do at the Polo Grounds rould have been performed with more positive intelligence by the

In fact, Mr. Crowley, if he were alive, would probably hesitate some time before he would be guilty of the ridiculous blunders, lack of diplomatic instincts and wholesale idlocy practiced by Mr. Ewing yesterday. It might be unjust to charge Ewing with the loss of the championship for New-York, but if any one did make such a charge he work! find a great many people who would give credence to the accusation. Ewing can be blamed, however, for falling to use sensibly the material which the owners of the New-York club have placed at his disposal.

The New-York and Cleveland teams played two es at the Polo Grounds yesterday, and the local team ought to have won both games early. As it was, the New-York team won one in handsome style, Estaten Island C. C... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2 0 2

There were nearly 4,000 people at the Polo Grounds

at 4 p. m. when the second game between the New-York and Cleveland teams was started. Barr was to pitch for the local club. and it will be many a day before he will pitch again. As early as the third inning Barr showed that he had no speed, and it became a question of how many hits the Cleveland's would make.

If he had been taken out of the box in the third, fourth, fifth, eixth, seventh or eight inning, the game would have been saved. Captain Ewing, however, with five able-bodied pitchers at hand beside Barr. ided to let that ex-Bison remain in the box and throw away the game. It is said that some of the players requested Ewing to substitute some one else for Barr, but he refused. Barr had no ability, speed or common sense, and it was a miracle that the Cleve-land's did not make twice the number of runs that The Westerners were badly crippled, or they did. they would probably have done so. Ewing recently pursued the same insane policy with Burrell.

He stole second on a wild pitch and secred on Connor's two-base-hit to centrefield, O'Rourke's three-bagger to left-field set the crowd howling, and Connor scored. O'Rourke scored on Richardson's hit past short-stop.

In the latter part of the inning the visitors got another run, tying the score. Virtue led off with a hit, but he was forced out by McAleer. McAleer made a good steal of second and scored on a two-base hit to leftheld by Shearon.

Earr ought to have been taken out, but Captain Ewing sat asleep on the bench and, as a result, the Cleveland's got two more runs in the fifth mning and again had the lead. Childs took three bases on a wild throw by Ghassock and scored on a sacrifice by McKean. Davis made a hit, went to second on an error by O'Rourke, stole third and scored on Virtue's hit to centagfield.

Then the New-Yorkers again began to bat in the sixth, and the result was four runs, and Cleveland again brought up the rear. Tiernan led off with a hit and went to second on a passed hall, Connor was sent to first on balls. O'Rourke hit to right-field and Tiernan scored, Gunnor getting third. Richardson stole third, after a wild pitch had enabled O'Rourke to score. Clarke hit safely to right, and Richardson at the tright-field and Counter run home. Baking the score: New-York 7, Cleveland bar was simply lucky for three innings, and, as was

Pan home, making the score: New-York 7, Cleveland 5.

Barr was simply lucky for three innings, and, as was anticipated, utterly collapsed in the ulinth, and the Clevelands scored the necessary three runs to win the game. Of course Gore's error was costly, but all good players make errors at times. Childs started the ninth with a hit, but was clearly thrown out at second by O'Rouke. Mc-kean was sent to first on called balls, and the comedy began. Davis sent a fly to centre and Gore muffel it. McKean getting third and Davis second. Zimmer's sacrifice allowed McKean to score, and then Davis promptly stole third. Virtue hit to right field and Davis second the tying run. Then hits by McAleer and Schearon brough home Virtue, and the farce was over, and the angriest crowd of spectators that ever left the Polo Grounds rushed for the exits.

. Two out in last inning.

The first battle was started at 2 p. m., and was on by the New-Yorks after a spirited and wellcontested game. The fielding work was remarkable, Richardson, Glasscock and Tiernan doing capital work. Doyle had a finger split in the second inning, and Zimmer came in to catch, Davis going to third and Shearon to centrefield. The Giants opened the game with two runs. Gore d off with a lively three-base hit between left and centre, and scored on a hit to centre field by Tiernan. Tiernan stole second, went to third on a passed ball. and scored on another passed ball by Doyle.

In the second inning the local players increased their lead to 3 to 0. After Buckley had struck out, Ewing hit safely to right field. He made a clever steal of second and scored on a hit to right field by The New-Yorkers further increased their lead with one more run in the fifth inning. Bassett was sent to first on called balls, and Tiernan's hit to right field put him on third. He scored on Connor's out from Childs to Virtue.

Ewing had pitched with wonderful effect for five innings, not a hit having been made off his curves. In the sixth he did not do so well and the Clevelands scored two runs. After Young had been put our Barkett hit safely to left field, and Childs also hit safely. McKean hit to centre field and Burkett scored. Ewing did not like this and sent Davis to first on balls, filling the bases. Zammer was also sent to first, forcing home Childs. A neat double play by Richardson and Conner saved the day. KILLED IN A CROWDED PASSENGER CAR. William Boag, of Linden-ave., was killed in crowded passenger car on the Central Railroad of New-Jersey yesterday at 1 p. m. near the Communityaw station. The Somerville way train had just left Jersey City and was going at full speed when one of the forward cars of the train was struck by a loosened car door of one of the rear cars of a freight train which was passing at a rapid rate in an opposite direction The sliding door of the freight car had become detached and swung outward at such an angle that it crushed in the window and woodwork facing the front platform of the second car of the passenger train. One of the loosened boards of the freight car door had acted as a missile, and ponetrating into the passenger car, struck Mr. Boag on one side of his head, killing him instantly. The flying boards also broke a large hole through a partition on the opposite side of the car. Mr. Bong was inside the car and was one of group of five or six passengers who were without sents and who were standing near the front door. The freight car door dropped between the two trains after scraping and indenting the woodwork of the outside of the passenger car for half its length. The body of Mr. Hoag was left at the Communipaw station and the train continued on its way. The passengers, who included many women, were badly frightened by the deafening crash of the accident, and jumped to their feet. A general rush was made for the centre asies, but as the movement of the train slackened the excitement subsided. No one else in the crowded car was injured.

ORANGE.

TO RESIST THE MAYOR'S DECISION. The financial situation in Orange has assumed a new phase. The Democratic members of the Council in caucus last evening decided to attempt to force Mayor Truman into signing the sewerage notes The plan adopted is to refuse to transact public bushness and to adjourn from day to day until the Mayor signs the notes.

Mayor Signs the notes.

Mayor Truman was seen by a Tribune reporter last evening. He said that he had no desire to obstruct the public business. He had called on the City Counsel for advice, and he had refused to meet him. Now he would get the best legal advice in the State, and if it could be shown to him that the signing of the notes would not render him personally responsible, he would sign them as soon as practicable. The Republican nembers of the Common Council are a unit and stand by Mayor Truman, but they are in a hopeless minority and can do nothing but put themselves on record. Meanwhile, the settlement day with the Empire Con-struction Company, the 15th of the month, is rapidly approaching, and there is imminent danger of a de-fault in the payment, the results of which would be

NEW-YORK CITY The Fall River Steamboat Line will shortly have work begun on a new iron steamer, to run between New-York and New-Bedford. The steamer will resemble the new boats Puritan and Plymouth, except that she will be a twin propeller instead of a sidewheeler. She will be 270 feet long, 42 feet beam, and 18 1-2 feet deep.

An entertainment of unusually large proportions is to open at the Eden Musee on September 24. Besides Mile. Valti and the Chiarini Pantomime Company there will be a ballet of a dozen young women. The large new stage is almost completed. The Hungarian band and waxworks are part of to-day's programme.

The Workingman's School and the normal classes for instruction in the methods of teaching the kinder garten system will open to-morrow morning at No 109 West Fifty-fourth-st. "The Town of Vanity Fair" will be the subject for the eighth of a series of free lectures on "Migrim's Progress" which is being given by the Rev. H. M. Warren in the People's Baptist Church, in Forty-eighth-st. near Ninth-ave. These lectures are given every Sunday evening, and will be continued through September and October.

The Rev. Dr. William H. Milburn, the blind chap-lain to Congress, will deliver an address at the Young Men's Christian Association Hall, No. 5 West Oneundred-and-twenty-fifth-st., at 4:30 p. m. to-day. The body of Henry Marsden, of No. 307 West Fifteenth-st, was found floating in the Hudson River near Fourteenth-st., Hoboken, yesterday. On Sep-tember 5 Marsden horrowed $1 from his brother and said: "You will not see me again." It is believed Peter McGrein a porter employed in the Grand Central Hotel, fell down an air-shaft from the second floor to the cellar vesterday afternoon, and was hurd o seriously that he died before an ambulance could be alled. He was unmarried.

Aaron F. Young, foreman of the Fire Department's ospital stables, in Ninety-ninih-st, near Tenth-ave hilled himself at his home, at No. 681 East One undred and forty third st., yesterday afternoon. shot himself in the head. Young's friends said they could not account for his suicide, as he was not a drunkard and seemed to live happily with his wife nd children.

THE SWINDLER FAILED TO FIND A VICTIM.

A man who said he was George Simpson visited Staten Island yesterday with a pocket full of forged checks, in the hope that he might victimize some of the merchants at Stapleton. He went in the guise of an agent of the New-York and New-Jersey Telegraph and Telephone Company, and said that he had been sent over there for the purpose of constructing a new line of wires for that company. He rented a stable from Dr. James McKee for $7 50 a month. Simpson offered to pay one month's rent in advance by tendering a check for $15, purporting to have been drawn by J. C. Riley on a bank in this city. Dr. McKee declined receive the check. The fred store of George Winter was next visited, where the man ordered some feed; amounting to about $10. The same $15 chick was endered to Winter, with a like result. Simpson the visited the building firms of Henry Spruck and Charles Beinert. Here he requested that he be favored with the cash for a check amounting to 810, and signed by C. W. Currier, of the firm of Bradley & Currier. He failed to get the cash. In the meantime Mr. Winter alled up superintendent Dominick Finnerty, of the telephone company at New-Brighton, and explained to him the statements made by his visitor. Finnerty at once took the train from New-Brighton to St. George and arrived there in season to intercept Simpson, who was taken into custody and taken before Justice Charles J. Kullman. When arraigned Simpson pleaded guilty was theh taken to police headquarters, where he was searched, when a complete "thimblerig" outfit was found in his possession. He was then removed to the county jail at Richmond to await the action of the Grand Jury. and made a clean breast of the whole transaction. He

GEO. A. CASTOR & CO., (TAILORS EXCLUSIVELY.) BROADWAY AND 18TH ST.

267 BROADWAY, OPPOSITE CITY HALL. FINDING ROBERTWILSON'S BODY IN THE BAY. The body of the drowned man found in the lower bay off staten Island yesterday morning by George Stanfield has been identified as that of Robert Wilson, of the National Baking Company, of No. 712 Third-ave., this city. The body was taken to the morgue of Coroner Hughes, of Clifton, where Dr. Feeney will hold an autopsy this morning. Several cuts about the head and one on the chiri, which was split open, are thought by some to be indications of foul play. Mr. Wilson, who was fifty-five years old, was well-todo, and lived at No. 55 East Fifty ninth-st, with his wife and six children. He left his home on Tuesday morning to go to his place of business, and had not since been seen until his body was found yesterday. The body was identified by his brother-in-law, James E. Shaw, of No. 233 South Tenth-ave., Mount Vernon. He saw the notice of the finding of the body, and knowing his brother-in-law was subject to fits, went to be fair, with elight changes in temperature.
